Have eyes on every situation

Arlo Go is reliable and its flexible placement can help law enforcers surveil criminals while keeping officers safe. When you need eyes on a situation but don't want to risk an officer, use a camera. Arlo Go runs on LTE and can provide remote live-views of a situation or send instant alerts when motion or audio is detected. Deploy and re-deploy in seconds. Watch areas of interest from a block or a mile away.

Every angle covered

- Watch over an active crime scene and keep officers safe by evaluating the situation before dispatching a team.
- Monitor known crime areas around the clock from anywhere, at any time and deter criminal activities by active intervention or immediate dispatch of personnel. Cameras can be placed at multiple locations and vantage points on the street.
- Covert surveillance lets your undercover officers keep an eye on identified locations without putting themselves in harm's way.
- Ensure full evidentiary chain integrity with recorded activities.
- Monitor DUI checkpoints.

Why Choose Arlo

Surveillance used to mean the placement of UC's, rolling bucket trucks, and installing expensive cameras in fake utility cabinets. Arlo has revolutionized how agencies can deploy covert video surveillance. Cameras can now be deployed minutes, work anywhere with LTE coverage, and help keep officers safe. Also, video can be easily shared with the chain of command—from the task force to the DA's office.

- Stream live video from any camera location to any device
- Small, easy-to-deploy and concealed footprint.
- Affordable plans
